WHEAT IN CALIFORNIA.—Recent San Francisco papers state, upon information declared to be reliable, that the dry north winds and drought of the past few weeks are causing destruction to the growing wheat crops upon the high lands of Alameda and Santa Clara counties; whole fields have been burned up or wilted so as not even to be fit to cut for hay. From the interior of the State also come reports that there will not be half a crop, and from Yolo and Colusa counties the intelligence is very discouraging, as it is stated that in those counties, excepting on the bottom lands, the crop will be an entire failure, many of the largest farms, of one thousand one hundred acres or more, of wheat, from present appearances, not being likely to yield enough for seed. Though these reports may be exaggerated for speculative purposes, yet we think our Oregon farmers have reason to feel encouraged as to their prospects, and we we hope that the probability of an advance in prices will hinder all from feeling that it will not pay to harvest the abundant crops which now seem likely to fully reward their labors.

THE NEW U. S. POSTAL LAW.—The law signed by the President on the 3d of March contains several sections which are of special interest to the people of this Coast. It provides that from and after the 30th day of June, 1863, the postage on all domestic letters to any part of the Union, not exceeding a half ounce avoirdupois in weight, shall be 3 cents, and for any additional weight at the rate of 3 cents for every additional half ounce or fraction thereof, all of which is to be prepaid.—The 10 cent postage on letters between this Coast and the Eastern States will thus be abolished after the 30th of June. Dead letters containing valuable inclosures are to be registered in the Department, and when from any cause it is found impossible to deliver the same to the writer or party addressed, the contents thereof, as far as available, will be included with the receipts of the Postoffice Department, and for four years shall be held subject to reclamation by the party addressed or the writer. All other letters deemed of value or importance to the party addressed or the writer, and which it appears cannot be returned to either destination, shall be disposed of as the Postmaster General shall direct. Also all letters directed to any person not found at the office addressed may be forwarded to any other office where he may be found without additional charge of postage therefor.

ESCAPED.—Some half dozen or more of the Penitentiary convicts made a dash yesterday, away from the guard, and two or three succeeded in making good their escape. They had been employed at work in the woods near the upper end of the city, and believing that a favorable chance was offered for an escape, owing to the insufficiency of the guard, composed only of two or three men to watch twelve or fifteen, they boldly made the attempt with the above mentioned result. The guard fired upon the retreating convicts, and it is said wounded two or three, but the extent of which we did not hear.

BIG HOAX.—The richest joke of the season was the account of the capture of the Jane Morley, published in the Washington Star on the first of April. The owners were reported as Hokes, Zell & Co., and the story hoaxed the Washington papers, and the sell was bought, through the agency of the Associated Press despatch, by the whole country. Forney's enterprising paper, the Chronicle, copied the Star's fabrication, and innocently "embroidered" it, to give an air of originality to the details. The grave National Intelligencer was also deceived, and the capital was merry over the consternation of the Star's cotemporaries, who were so egregiously humbugged.

Miss Jennie Moon, rotund and rosy cheeked, tripped on board a steamer at Cincinnati, on Saturday, intending to go to Memphis, secure in her bewitching beauty and her relationship to an Ohio Judge. But Jennie Moon was speedily on the wane as the female detective relieved the buxom form of forty bottles of morphine, seven pounds of opium, a quantity of camphor and a large rebel mail. Jennie could only go on the rampage and shout for Jeff Davis like the genuine Secesh that she was.

DRAFTING.—We understand that there is a rumor in circulation among the people of the upper Willamette valley, to the effect that the Conscription Act is to be immediately enforced in this State. We are assured by the Governor that no such orders have been received, and that the act will not be enforced here unless there is a greater necessity for it than now exists.

EXTRA MILEAGE.—Just before the adjournment of the late Congress it voted itself an extra mileage or three mileages for the Congress. The mileage of the Oregon members for the Congress amounted to about twenty thousand dollars apiece. Two thirds of this was paid in coin and one-third in greenbacks.—Oregon Statesman.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN EXPRESS.—Messrs. Chas. Frush and Fred. Sherwood have made arrangements to run an express from Fort Benton to connect with Wells, Fargo & Co. at this place. Mr. Frush has started for Fort Benton to stock the line.—Walla Walla Statesman.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to May 16th.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Navy Department has information that the steamer Cherokee, a blockade runner, was captured by our squadron off Charleston on the 8th of May.

[illegible], May [illegible].—The P[illegible] mills at P[illegible] were destroyed by fire on Sunday last. Loss $[illegible].

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Gen. Curtis has been relieved of the command of the Department of Missouri. Gen. Schofield has succeeded him.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Sterling at [illegible]. Gold [illegible] 150.

FORTRESS MONROE, May 1[illegible].—Saturday's Richmond papers have been received, with dates from Charleston to the [illegible]th. One dispatch says the enemy is unusually active. He has built formidable batteries on Folly Island, bearing on the South [illegible] extremity of Morris Island. Several Yankee regiments are fortifying Seabrook's Island, and the iron clads and the [illegible] transports are in that vicinity. Several steamships have arrived from Nassau having run the blockade.

NEW YORK, May 15.—An emeute occurred at Camp Sprague, Staten Island, on the [illegible]th; some mutineers attacked the guard with clubs, stones and pickaxes, but were finally suppressed. One man was killed and several wounded. 28 were afterwards captured.

By a general order just issued all officers and men who have been delivered at City Point up to May 6th, and captured and released on parole up to April 1st wherever captured, and all captured in North Carolina and Virginia, released on parole up to March 1st, are declared duly exchanged.

A special dispatch to the Times says the President received from headquarters Army of the Potomac an original letter from Jeff Davis, addressed to one of his Colonels, in which he speaks very disparagingly of affairs in the South west and on the Rappahannock. A letter was found in a rebel camp at Fredericksburg dated April 21. Lee's headquarters are in Fredericksburg.

A dispatch received by the State Department from Minister Corwin shows that up to the 21st of April the French had not obtained possession of Puebla.

The Herald's dispatch says that previous to the falling back of Hooker a council of corps commanders was held, and four of the six urged an advance upon the rebel army.

The Richmond Sentinel of May 12th says: The Natchez Courier professes to have information that Kirby Smith, with 10,000 raw recruits, whipped Banks, driving him out of Washington, Louisiana.

MURFREESBORO, May 14.—The portion of the rebel army described by a correspondent of the Atlanta Confederacy are right flanked on McMinnville, the left [illegible] extends west ward via Winchester and Shelbyville through Columbia. It forms a large [illegible] curved slightly towards the south, while the rear extends as far up as Estill Springs. The right flank is protected by Elk Creek and the abrupt peaks of the Cumberland mountains, and several thousand dashing cavalry under Gen. Morgan.

FORTRESS MONROE, May 15.—The following is from Southern papers: Gen. Banks has issued orders at New Orleans requiring all registered rebels to take the oath of allegiance before the first of May, or prepare to leave before the 15th.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A dispatch from Gen. Grant of the [illegible] has been received. He expressed satisfaction with the appearance of affairs in his vicinity, and states that Port Hudson has undoubtedly been evacuated, except by small garrisons and their heavy artillery.

CHICAGO, May 15.—The Springfield Journal states that Kars, Steele & Co. have contracted to build 150 miles of railroad to the Pacific. This division lies within the boundary of Kansas, beyond which the Union Pacific road policy commences. It is intended to have forty miles open during the present year. The rails, spikes, &c. are all purchased and the work will be pushed on vigorously.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Ocean Queen has arrived from Aspinwall, bringing private advices from Hilton Head to May 10th, which state that the ironclads are thoroughly repaired, all injuries done by the forts having been remedied. The armory turrets and hulls are now perfect. It was generally believed that the 15 inch guns would be replaced by others of smaller bore.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Gen. Stahl sent a reconnoitering party to Leesburg to hunt the rebels, but none were found in force. A skirmish with a few black horse cavalry near Warrenton resulted in killing one citizen and wounding several rebel soldiers. We had three wounded.

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible].—The last of our wounded left on the other side of the Rappahannock have been across. As good care was taken of them while they remained within the enemy's lines as could be expected. Our surgeons have been with them since Hooker crossed the river. The medical stores sent over at the suggestion of Gen. Lee were taken possession of by the rebels, but were issued to our soldiers on proper requisitions. The dead of both armies have been buried.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Evidence in Gen. Buell's case has arrived here. There is reason to believe that the finding of the court is such as to show that the President had ample cause for removing Buell from command, and that the Government erred in postponing his removal so long.

The general tenor of advices from Mexico received at the War Department to-day is unfavorable to the French, who had, on the 21st, made slight progress towards the capture of Puebla. The Mexicans defended the place with desperate courage. Commonfort had received reinforcements and was about to assume offensive operations.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A special dispatch to the World says that Hooker came up to this city last night and had an interview with the President, after which he returned to the army. From what we can learn, Hooker has retained his present command in the army unaided by Halleck.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—The following are the latest rebel reports:

JACKSON, Miss., May 10.—Eleven of Grant's cavalry entered and burned Crystal Springs on the New Orleans railroad to-day. The enemy are removing from Small[illegible] Springs. The enemy are fortifying at Rocky Springs and Western Springs. Grant will probably advance east and not directly upon Vicksburg.

VICKSBURG, May 11.—Nothing of importance has transpired to-day. A barge laden with coal ran the batteries last night. The enemy's fleet above the city is increasing.

CHARLESTON, May 12.—The steamer Britain, with merchandise, arrived through the blockade. She started with the steamer Norman, which has not been heard from.

WILMINGTON, May 13.—The steamers Pet and Bashaw arrived this morning from Nassau.

TULLAHOMA, May 12th.—Bragg reviewed his Northern Alabama troops yesterday. He addressed them briefly in highly complimentary terms. He gave a spirited and encouraging account of the situation in front and expressed his hope that they would meet the enemy. He leaves to-morrow to inspect the front.

A [illegible] at Richmond [illegible] Examiner has a savage article on Burnsides for his order against [illegible] and traitors, and concludes with Vallandigham on his prosecution.

WASHINGTON, May 1[illegible].—The Provost Marshal of this District has seized the real and personal property of several persons who were formerly citizens, but are now in the service of the Confederacy. Gen. Carrington, who is the U. S. Attorney for the District, is rapidly maturing proceedings against the property of all persons who have left their homes and joined the rebels. He expects to have it nearly completed by the first Monday in June, the return day as fixed by the laws. He is acting under orders issued by the Attorney General several months since.

CAIRO, May 16th.—The Jackson, Miss., Appeal has the following: Vicksburg, May [illegible]th.—There was skirmishing among the outposts along the Big Black on Monday. There was a brisk artillery duel across the river to hold the Federal troops in check should they desire to cross.

Union Convention at Monticello W. T.

MONTICELLO, Cowlitz Co., W. T.,
May 1[illegible]th, 186[illegible].

At a Convention of the Union men of Cowlitz and Wahkiakum counties for the purpose of nominating officers for the various County and Territorial offices to be voted for at the next July election, and also to elect Delegates to attend a Territorial Union Convention to be holden at Vancouver, W. T., May 2[illegible]th, 186[illegible], the following proceedings were had: A. S. Abernethy was elected President and Chas. McCall Secretary. On motion a committee of five were appointed to draft resolutions, consisting of Messrs. Burbank, Harris, Jas. Huntington, Smith and Toffey. The committee presented the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That our attachment to the Federal Union is undiminished, and that we will adhere with unflinching devotion to the national cause. That we believe the safety of the country and the preservation of our liberties depend upon the perpetuity of the Union, and that we view every proposition of compromise with rebels, on any other basis than that of unqualified submission to the laws and the national authority, as wholly inadmissible, and fraught with the most dangerous consequences to the country.

Resolved, That we believe in every measure which President Lincoln has adopted for the maintenance of the Union and the restoration of the national authority, [illegible] actuated by the highest patriotism and the most loyal devotion to the interests of the people, and we pledge ourselves to a hearty support of the Administration in all measures for the suppression of the rebellion.

Resolved, That the nominees of this meeting shall be unconditional Union men, with no ifs or ands about it.

On motion a committee of five were appointed to nominate a County ticket, consisting of Messrs. Mc[illegible], Hays, Burbank, H. D. H[illegible]ington and Monger, who presented the following ticket, which was adopted: For Representative, Chas. McCall; Auditor, H[illegible]; Sheriff, [illegible] Stone; Treasurer, Jas. Huntington; County Commissioner, Chas. A. M[illegible]; School Superintendent, A. R. Burbank; Assessor, L. D. Shepardson.

On motion, Messrs. Burbank and Abernethy were nominated and elected Delegates to attend the Union Territorial Convention.

On motion, Messrs. Burbank, Bennett and Monger were appointed a County Committee for the ensuing year.

The motion was made and carried that the Secretary be instructed to furnish copies of the proceedings of this meeting for publication in the Washington Standard, Portland Oregonian and Times.

A. S. ABERNETHY, Pres't.
CHAS. MCCALL, Sec'y.

WOMAN—AS SEEN ON A FURLOUGH.—[illegible] Browne, writing to the Springfield Republican after being on a furlough, says:

But to leave the minor differences unspoken of, the grand advantage you have over us is—women. Having had scarcely a glimpse of a petticoat for a series of months, and when seen nearly always with a black face and thick lips above it, I confess to the most affectionate and loving emotions toward the sex during my recent vacation, even when thrown accidentally into their society in a rail car. And not the young and pretty ones merely; indeed the multitudes of rosy, plump-faced, ringletted young creatures that I saw here and there on the journey seemed, somehow, too much chatter-boxes and gigglers, and may I say it?—thoughtless of anything save their own pretty selves for these serious times of ours. Those that I heard making the most noise and disturbing most the quiet of the car and steamer were not drunken soldiers, of whom we had occasionally a few on board, but giggling young misses with piles of books under their arms. No; those that most attracted my interest and attention, except perhaps the little children, whom I always love, were the older faces on which lines, I thought, appear where character has had time to express itself—the wives, the matrons, the grandmothers—the quiet, thoughtful, sometimes sad and lonely face, whose eye lighted up with a ray of recognition as it fell on a soldier's dress, as though a husband or a brother or a son were in the far away army; the lady in mourning who sat in a corner seat, whose eyes were filled with such a tide of emotion at the sight of a uniform that I was on the point of asking her in what battle her husband was killed—the gray-haired grandmother of sixty years perhaps, who sat by my side and asked if I knew her two grandsons in the army of the Potomac, and talked with such hearty enthusiasm in their praise—the young mother with a three years old boy coming down on the boat to Aquia Creek, and on with us in a rough baggage car, to make happy the heart of her husband by a short visit to him in his winter quarters—the many, many noble women whom I heard utter such patriotic sentiments, who seemed so anxious to encourage the hearts of the soldiers, and who so very great sacrifices in the country's cause I am acquainted with—these were the beautiful faces to my eyes—these are the ones who are miniatured in our hearts, when we go into perils and stand night watches and make weary marches. God bless the women of New England, the women of our whole North.

RETURN OF COLUMBIANS N[illegible] Yesterday afternoon was the occasion of [illegible] turn out of our Fire Boys and citizens generally to greet the return of Columbian Engine Company, No [illegible] and invited guests who had been on a friendly visit to [illegible] City. A few minutes past 2 o'clock the P. T. C.'s steamer E D Baker hove in sight and the signal was given for the assembling of No 1s 2s, and 4s, and H & L up on the O S N Company's wharf to welcome No [illegible] back home but upon enquiry it was ascertained that an accident had happened to the Hunt on her upward trip to the Cascades and that the excursionists returning upon the steamers of the old line would have to wait at the Cascades until the Julia arrived and came down on her whereupon as soon as sufficient fuel could be taken in, the Fire Boys preceded by the Mechanics Brass Band fell into line, took a turn or two round a few squares of the city and marched on board the Baker which proudly turned round in the stream and went flying down the river to meet and escort the Julia up And we would here remark that we don't remember ever seeing a prettier [illegible] sight than was presented by the Baker as she went sailing down the river her upper decks crowded with red shirted firemen [illegible] ladies, and other citizens all waving their handkerchiefs, numerous flags streaming in the air, accompanied by the thrilling notes of an excellent brass band whilst high [illegible] all belched forth dense masses of black curling smoke which rolled itself away in [illegible] towards the heavens all together [illegible] a sight seldom equalled any where and never excelled upon those waters. Indeed the sight was so grand that we are sure we saw several gentlemen who appeared to have grown two or three inches taller than usual—yesterday was a proud day to the friends of the Baker After the steamer had [illegible] all remain quiet as usual on Front Street until about six o'clock when the signal gun was again fired, and a dense crowd again assembled on the wharf Upon looking out we found that the Baker had already arrived and soon after the Julia hove in sight each boat crowded with firemen ladies and other [illegible], and two brass bands discoursing lively music. A procession was quickly formed and Portland's famous Fire Department was again seen in full uniform marching through our streets, accompanied by two large and [illegible] brass bands, a la Fourth of July — The procession marched through the principal streets of the city, passing the various engine houses amidst the ringing of bells waving of flags and other demonstrations of welcome winding up with a "grand tableau" near the Pioneer Hotel We can only add, that the [illegible] expression of every one who visited the Dalles upon this occasion, was that they never enjoyed a more pleasant and happy trip—received a more courteous and friendly greeting upon any occasion than was extended to them by the good people of Dalles City and the many proofs of their unbounded hospitality will be long remembered with pleasure and satisfaction.

THE GREAT HORSE TAMER.—We regret that we were not able to attend the Lecture of Prof. [illegible] Below, the famous American horse tamer, yesterday afternoon, but we are informed by those who did attend that the Lecture was interesting and instructive abounding in much valuable information to those having the care or desirous of understanding the management of horses Notwithstanding the extraordinary excitement of our people over the momentarily expected arrival of the excursionists from the Dalles, a very respectable audience were present, and a class of near 20 persons was formed for private instruction in the art and science of horsemanship. Another lecture and demonstration will be given by the Professor this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Messrs Sherlock & Bacon's Livery Stable, and we would recommend those who feel any interest or curiosity in this matter to attend. A wild and unhandled colt is to be a subject for demonstration

BEST TIME ON RECORD.—We are informed by Mr. W. W. Baker, that the People's Transportation Company's steamer E D Baker made the quickest time on record on her trip to the Cascades and back yesterday She [illegible] here at ten minutes past two o'clock P. M., making fifteen minutes better time than ever before made

ACCIDENT.—As a drove of cattle were crossing the bridge south of the penitentiary yesterday, it gave way and precipitated them to the bottom, a distance of about twenty feet killing two outright, badly crippling another and knocking the horns off of several That portion of the road on which is the bridge has not been traveled for some time there being a new one, and the cattle were driven over it through mistake the drovers not knowing its bad condition We are informed that the cattle are destined for Puget Sound

FIR TREES.—Perhaps it is not generally known that all the fir trees reached by the high water of last summer are dead at least it is the case with those trees in the lower part of town, every one of them If such is the fact, that story told by the "oldest inhabitant" about the townsite of Portland being under water thirty or forty years ago, is unfounded, as many of the trees spoken of are evidently several hundred years old It is not the case, however, with other species of trees

PICTORIALS.—Mr S J McCormick of the Franklin Bookstore has placed before us a large bundle of late pictorials and a miscellaneous supply of Eastern newspapers At his place one can be cheaply supplied with all the late issues of the day

ACCIDENT.—The Wilson G. Hunt on her trip up to the Cascades yesterday [illegible] a feed valve, and was obliged to return after transferring her freight and passengers to the Julia. She will be laid up until repaired the Julia taking her place on the line

Organic Act for the Territory of Idaho.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all that part of the territory of the United States included within the following limits, viz: Beginning at a point in the middle channel of the Snake river where the northern boundary of Oregon intersects the same; thence follow down said channel of Snake river to a point opposite the mouth of the Kooskooskia, or Clear water river; thence due north to the forty ninth parallel of latitude; thence east, along said parallel, to the twenty seventh degree of longitude west of Washington; thence south, along said degree of longitude, to the northern boundary of Colorado Territory; thence west, along said boundary to the thirty third degree of longitude west of Washington; thence north along said degree, to the forty second parallel of latitude; thence west along said parallel to the eastern boundary of the State of Oregon; thence north, along said boundary to the place of beginning. And the same is hereby created into a temporary government, by the name of the Territory of Idaho: Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to inhibit the Government of the United States from dividing said Territory or changing its boundaries in such manner and at such time as Congress shall deem convenient and proper, or from attaching any portion of said Territory to any other State or Territory of the United States: Provided further, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to impair the rights of person or property now pertaining to the Indians in said Territory, so long as such rights shall remain unextinguished by Treaty between the United States and such Indians, or to include any territory which, by treaty with any Indian tribes is not, without the consent of said tribe, to be included within the territorial limits or jurisdiction of any State or Territory, but all such territory shall be excepted out of the boundaries and constitute no part of the Territory of Idaho, until said tribe shall signify their assent to the President of the United States to be included within said Territory, or to affect the authority of the Government of the United States to make any regulations respecting such Indians, their lands, property, or other rights, by treaty, law, or otherwise, which it would have been competent for the Government to make if this act had never passed.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the Executive power and authority in and over said Territory of Idaho shall be vested in a Governor, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States. The governor shall reside within said Territory, and shall be commander-in-chief of the militia and superintendent of Indian affairs thereof. He may grant pardons and respites for offences against the laws of said Territory, and reprieve for offences against the laws of the United States until the decision of the President of the United States can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of the said Territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a secretary of said Territory, who shall reside therein and shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States; he shall record and preserve all laws and proceedings of the legislative assembly hereinafter constituted, and all the acts and proceedings of the governor in his executive department; he shall transmit one copy of the laws and journals of the legislative assembly within thirty days after the end of each session, and one copy of the executive proceedings and official correspondence semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, to the President of the United States, and two copies of the laws to the President of the Senate and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives for the use of Congress. And in case of the death, removal, resignation, or absence of the governor from the Territory, the secretary shall be, and he is hereby authorized and required to execute and perform all the powers and duties of the governor during such vacancy or absence, or until another governor shall be duly appointed and qualified to fill such vacancy.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power and authority of said Territory shall be vested in the governor and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly shall consist of a council and house of representatives. The council shall consist of seven members having the qualifications of voters, as hereinafter prescribed, whose term of service shall continue two years. The house of representatives shall, at its first session, consist of thirteen members, possessing the same qualifications as prescribed for the members of the council, and whose term of service shall continue one year. The number of representatives may be increased by the legislative assembly, from time to time, to twenty-six, in proportion to the increase of qualified voters; and the council, in like manner, to thirteen. An apportionment shall be made as nearly equal as practicable among the several counties or districts for the election of the council and representatives, giving to each section of the Territory representation in the ratio of its qualified voters as nearly as may be. And the members of the council, and of the house of representatives shall reside in and be inhabitants of the district or county, or counties, for which they may be elected respectively. Previous to the first election the governor shall cause a census or enumeration of the inhabitants and qualified voters of the several counties and districts of the Territory to be taken by such persons and in such mode as the governor shall designate and appoint, and the persons so appointed shall receive a reasonable compensation therefor. And the first election shall be held at such time and places, and be conducted in such manner both as to the persons who shall superintend such election and the returns thereof, as the governor shall appoint and direct; and he shall, at the same time, declare the number of members of the council and house of representatives to which each of the counties or districts shall be entitled under this act. The persons having the highest number of legal votes in each of said council districts for members of the council shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected to the council; and the persons having the highest number of legal votes for the house of representatives shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected members of said house: Provided, That in case two or more persons voted for shall have an equal number of votes, and in case a vacancy shall otherwise occur in either branch of the legislative assembly, the governor shall order a new election; and the persons thus elected to the legislative assembly shall meet at such place and on such day as the governor shall appoint; but thereafter the time, place, and manner of holding and conducting all elections by the people, and the apportioning the representation in the several counties or districts to the council and house of representatives, according to the number of qualified voters, shall be prescribed by law, as well as the day of the commencement of the regular session of the legislative assembly: Provided, That no session in any one year shall exceed the term of forty days, except the first session, which may continue sixty days.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That every free white male inhabitant above the age of twenty-one years who shall have been an actual resident of said Territory at the time of the passage of this act, shall be entitled to vote at the first election, and shall be eligible to any office within the said Territory; but the qualifications of voters, and of holding office, at all subsequent elections shall be such as shall be prescribed by the legislative assembly.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the Territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act, but no law shall be passed interfering with the primary disposal of the soil; no tax shall be imposed upon the property of the United States, nor shall the lands or other property of non-residents be taxed higher than the lands or other property of residents. Every bill which shall have passed the council and house of representatives of the said Territory shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the Territory; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated, who shall enter the objections at large upon their journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, to be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the assembly, by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law: Provided, That whereas slavery is prohibited in said Territory by act of Congress of June 19th, 1862, nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or permit its existence therein.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That all township, district, and county officers, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of Idaho. The governor shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council, appoint all officers not herein otherwise provided for, and in the first instance the governor alone may appoint all said officers, who shall hold their offices until the end of the first session of the legislative assembly, and shall lay off the necessary districts for members of the council and house of representatives, and all other officers.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold or be appointed to any office which shall have been created, or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased, while he was a member, during the term for which he was elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; but this restriction shall not be applicable to members of the first legislative assembly; and no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, except postmasters, shall be a member of the legislative assembly, or shall hold any office under the government of said Territory.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That the judicial power of said Territory shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall hold a term at the seat of government of said Territory annually; and they shall hold their offices during the period of four years, and until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. The said Territory shall be divided into three judicial districts, and a district court shall be held in each of said districts by one of the justices of the supreme court at such times and places as may be prescribed by law, and the said judges shall, after their appointment, respectively, reside in the districts which shall be assigned them. The jurisdiction of the several courts herein provided for, both appellate and original, and that of the probate courts and of justices of the peace shall be limited by law, Provided, That justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any matter in controversy when the title or boundaries of land may be in dispute, or where the debt or sum claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars; and the said supreme and district courts respectively shall possess chancery as well as common law jurisdiction. Each district court or the judge thereof, shall appoint its clerk, who shall also be the register in chancery, and shall keep his office at the place where the court may be held. Writs of error, bills of exceptions, and appeals shall be allowed in all cases from the decisions of said district courts to the supreme court under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The supreme court or the justices thereof, shall appoint its own clerk, and every clerk shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court for which he shall have been appointed. Writs of error and appeals from the final decisions of said supreme court shall be allowed, and may be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit courts of the United States, where the value of the property or the amount in controversy, to be ascertained by the oath or affirmation of either party, or other competent witnesses, shall exceed $1000, except that a writ of error or appeal shall be allowed to the Supreme Court of the United States from the decision of the said supreme court created by this act, or of any judge thereof, upon any writs of habeas corpus involving the question of personal freedom. And each of the said district courts shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction in all cases arising under the Constitution and laws of the United States as is vested in the circuit and district courts of the United States; and the first six days of every term of said courts, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be appropriated to the trial of causes arising under the said Constitution and laws, and writs of error and appeal in all such cases shall be made to the supreme court of said Territory the same as in other cases. The said clerks shall receive in all such cases the same fees which the clerks of the district courts of Washington Territory now receive for similar services.

Sec. 10. And be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed an attorney for said Territory, who shall continue in office four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States, and who shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the present Territory of Washington. There shall also be a marshal for the Territory appointed, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States; he shall perform the duties, be subject to the same regulations and penalties, and be entitled to the same fees as the marshal of the district court of the United States for the present Territory of Washington, and shall, in addition, be paid $200 annually as a compensation for extra services.

Sec. 11. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, chief justice and associate justices, attorney and marshal, shall be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The governor and secretary to be appointed as aforesaid shall, before they act as such, respectively take an oath or affirmation before the district judge or some justice of the peace in the limits of said Territory duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations by the laws now in force therein, or before the chief justice or some associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to support the Constitution of the United States, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices, which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person by whom the same shall have been taken; and such certificates shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings; and the chief justice and associate justices, and all civil officers in said Territory, before they act as such, shall take a like oath or affirmation before the said governor or secretary, or some judge or justice of the peace of the Territory, who may be duly commissioned and qualified, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted by the person taking the same to the secretary, to be by him recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law. The governor shall receive an annual salary of $2500; the chief justice and associate justices shall receive an annual salary of $2500; the secretary shall receive an annual salary of $2000. The said salaries shall be paid quarter yearly, from the dates of the respective appointments, at the Treasury of the United States, but no payment shall be made until said officers shall have entered upon the duties of their respective appointments. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive four dollars each per day during their attendance at the sessions thereof, and four dollars each for every twenty miles travel in going to and returning from said sessions, estimated according to the nearest usually traveled route; and an additional allowance of four dollars per day shall be paid to the presiding officer of each house for each day he shall so preside. And a chief clerk, one assistant clerk, one engrossing and one enrolling clerk, a sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper may be chosen for each house, and the chief clerk shall receive four dollars per day, and the said other officers three dollars per day, during the session of the legislative assembly; but no other officers shall be paid by the United States: Provided, That there shall be but one session of the legislative assembly annually, unless on an extraordinary occasion, the governor shall think proper to call the legislative assembly together. There shall be appropriated annually the usual sum, to be expended by the governor, to defray the contingent expenses of the Territory, including the salary of the clerk of the executive department; and there shall also be appropriated annually a sufficient sum, to be expended by the secretary of the Territory, and upon an estimate to be made by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, to defray the expenses of the legislative assembly, the printing of the laws, and other incidental expenses; and the governor and secretary of the Territory shall, in the disbursement of all moneys intrusted to them, be governed solely by the instructions of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and shall semi-annually account to the said Secretary for the manner in which the aforesaid moneys shall have been expended; and no expenditure shall be made by said legislative assembly for objects not specially authorized by the acts of Congress making the appropriations, nor beyond the sums thus appropriated for such objects.

Sec. 12. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly of the Territory of Idaho shall hold its first session at such time and place in said Territory as the governor thereof shall appoint and direct; and at said first session, or as soon thereafter as they shall deem expedient, the governor and legislative assembly shall proceed to locate and establish a seat of government for said Territory at such place as they may deem eligible: Provided, That the seat of government fixed by the governor and legislative assembly shall not be at any time changed, except by an act of the said assembly duly passed, and which shall be approved, after due notice, at the first general election thereafter, by a majority of the legal votes cast on that question.

Sec. 13. And be it further enacted, That a delegate to the House of Representatives of the United States, to serve for the term of two years, who shall be a citizen of the United States, may be elected by the voters qualified to elect members of the legislative assembly, who shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are exercised and enjoyed by the delegates of the several other Territories of the United States to the said House of Representatives; but the delegate first elected shall hold his seat only during the term of the Congress to which he shall be elected. The first election shall be held at such time and places, and be conducted in such manner, as the governor shall appoint and direct; and at all subsequent elections the times, places and manner of holding the elections shall be prescribed by law. The person having the greatest number of legal votes shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected, and a certificate thereof to be given accordingly. That the Constitution and all laws of the United States which are not locally inapplicable shall have the same force and effect within the said Territory of Idaho as elsewhere within the United States.

Sec. 14. And be it further enacted, That when the lands in the said Territory shall be surveyed, under the direction of the Government of the United States, preparatory to bringing the same into market, sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in each township in said Territory shall be and the same are hereby reserved for the purpose of being applied to schools in said Territory, and in the States and Territories hereafter to be erected out of the same.

Sec. 15. And be it further enacted, That until otherwise provided by law, the governor of said Territory may define the judicial districts of said Territory and assign the judges who may be appointed for said Territory to the several districts, and also appoint the times and places for holding courts in the several counties or subdivisions in each of said judicial districts by proclamation to be issued by him; but the legislative assembly at their first or any subsequent session, may organize, alter or modify such judicial districts, and assign the judges, and alter the times and places of holding the courts as to them shall seem proper and convenient.

Sec. 16. And be it further enacted, That all officers to be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate for the Territory of Idaho, who by virtue of any of the provisions of any law now existing, or which may be enacted by Congress, are required to give security for moneys that may be entrusted with them for disbursement, shall give such security at such time and in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

Sec. 17. And be it further enacted, That all treaties, laws, and other engagements made by the Government of the United States with the Indian tribes inhabiting the Territory embraced within the provisions of this act, shall be faithfully and rigidly observed, anything contained in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, and that the existing agencies and superintendencies of said Indians be continued with the same powers and duties which are now prescribed by law, except that the President of the United States may, at his discretion, change the location of the office of said agencies or superintendencies.

Approved March 3, 1863.

HUMAN STRENGTH.—A New York paper gives currency to the report that Dr Winship, our modern Milo, has met with serious physical injury through his lifting experiments. Such is not the fact. He has now reached a lifting power of over twenty five hundred pounds. His remarkable lifting apparatus is in his office, Park street, where it may be seen by the curious. It is on record that one Richard Joy of Kent, England, in the year 1703, succeeded in lifting twenty-two hundred pounds. Dr. W. has surpassed this by three hundred, and finding his strength increasing in an undiminished ratio, is still confident of reaching, within a reasonable time, his ultimatum of three thousand pounds. His motive in carrying physical development to this extreme is purely scientific, and he has not yet, we believe, recommended any one to be in this respect his imitator.—Cincinnati Gazette.

"Greenbacks will go down when you go down," said a gallant Indiana Colonel to one of his men whose mind had been somewhat poisoned by the treasonable teachings of Copperheadism. "The bluecoats and greenbacks are in the same boat, and must sink or swim together."

"Then," said the soldier, "a discount on greenbacks is a discount on us?"

"That's it, exactly," said the Colonel, "and as long as we win victories in the field, greenbacks will be worth a premium."

"AYE, THERE'S THE RUB.—An old maid" who has her eye a little sideways on matrimony, says, "the curse of this war is that it will make so many widows who will be so fierce to get married, and who know how to do it, the modest girls will have no chance at all."

AIR AT WORK.—The London "Pneumatic Dispatch Company" has commenced forwarding mail bags through its underground tubes. This enterprise is novel. The pneumatic tubes which have been laid by the company extend from the Euston railway station to the North western District postoffice, in Eversholt street, London, a distance of only about one third of a mile, but sufficient for experimental purposes. The tube resembles an elliptical gas main, thirty three inches high by thirty inches wide, and is laid in nine feet lengths, at an average depth of nine feet below the street level. The joints are filled in with lead, so as to be perfectly air tight. Within this tube runs a wrought iron car, weighing eight hundred pounds, and fitted with four wheels, each twenty inches in diameter. At each end of the tube is a hollow iron wheel, working in an air tight box of twenty one feet in diameter, which is connected with a steam engine of seventeen horse power. The wheel turns at a velocity of seventy to ninety miles an hour, when the air which is drawn in through its hollow centre is thrown off from its periphery with a force that gives a pressure of from five to seven ounces on the square inch. The iron cars in the tube present a surface of nearly two square feet to the blast, and are propelled at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

The entire cost of a line of five miles is estimated at £131,000, and it is proposed to carry freight as well as mails through London at the cheap rate of a penny (two cents) a ton per mile. So far, the experiment is successful, and the results are very interesting and curious.

AFTER MARRIAGE THOUGHTS.—They said marrying was fun—pretty fun to be sure!—When I was a single man the world wagged about well enough. It was just like an omnibus. I was a passenger, paid my levy, and had no more to do with it than to set down and care not a button for anything. S'posing the omnibus got upset, well! I walks off and leaves the man to pick up the pieces. But then I takes a wife, and be hanged to me—it's all very well for a while, but plaguy like owning an omnibus. What did I get by it? how much fun? Why, a jawing old woman and three squallers. Mighty different from courting. Instead of "yes, my duck," or "no, my dear," "as you please, honey," and "when you like, lovely," like what it was in courting time, it's a regular row. Sour looks and cold potatoes, children and table cloths badly off for soap, always darning and mending and nothing ever darned or mended. If it wasn't that I am particularly sober, I'd be inclined to drink. My house ain't my own. I belong to four people besides myself, the old woman and three children. I'm a partnership concern, and as many have got their fingers in, I must burn up. I'll break and sign over to you.—Sam Patch.

LEGAL.

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay on all nett profits (less $600) derived from any source whatever. A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help, Rents, Drayage, &c., necessary to carry on his business, but no farmer, merchant, mechanic or any person has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income.

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1st, 1862, so that on the evening of December 31st, 1862, everybody should make up a record of their income gains or profits for that year. And as many sources of income, such as Dividends and Railroad Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stock, Savings Banks interest, &c., (they having already paid the income tax) are not again taxed. It therefore becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the Assessor.

All corporations must deduct the three per centum before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year and pay the tax on the amount less $600.

A man may, outside of his business, spend all and even more than his profits in the business, nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $600. And so with a salary all over $600 must be taxed, though personal or family expenses consume it all.

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is assessable on the first day of May, 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June, 1863. And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June, as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per cent. and interest added to the amount unpaid.

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore, thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.
There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor; at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!
AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer 'State of Maine,' from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.

Organic Act for the Territory of Idaho

AN ACT to provide a temporary government for the Territory of Idaho

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all that part of the territory of the United States included within the following limits, viz: Beginning at a point in the middle channel of the Snake river where the northern boundary of Oregon intersects the same; then follow down said channel of Snake river to a point opposite the mouth of the Kooskooskia or Clearwater river; thence due north to the forty ninth parallel of latitude; thence east, along said parallel, to the twenty seventh degree of longitude west of Washington; thence south, along said degree of longitude, to the northern boundary of Colorado Territory; thence west, along said boundary to the thirty third degree of longitude west of Washington; thence north along said degree, to the forty second parallel of latitude; thence west along said parallel, to the eastern boundary of the State of Oregon; thence north along said boundary to the place of beginning. And the same is hereby created into a temporary government, by the name of the Territory of Idaho: Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to inhibit the Government of the United States from dividing said Territory or changing its boundaries in such manner and at such time as Congress shall deem convenient and proper, or from attaching any portion of said Territory to any other State or Territory of the United States: Provided further, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to impair the rights of person or property now pertaining to the Indians in said Territory, so long as such rights shall remain unextinguished by treaty between the United States and such Indians, or to include any territory which, by treaty with any Indian tribe, is not, without the consent of said tribe, to be included within the territorial limits or jurisdiction of any State or Territory; but all such territory shall be excepted out of the boundaries and constitute no part of the Territory of Idaho until said tribe shall signify their assent to the President of the United States to be included within said Territory, or to affect the authority of the Government of the United States to make any regulations respecting such Indians, their lands, property, or other rights, by treaty, law, or otherwise, which it would have been competent for the Government to make if this act had never passed.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the executive power and authority in and over said Territory of Idaho shall be vested in a Governor, who shall hold his office for four years and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States. The governor shall reside within said Territory, and shall be commander-in-chief of the militia and superintendent of Indian affairs thereof. He may grant pardons and respites for offences against the laws of said Territory, and reprieve for offences against the laws of the United States until the decision of the President of the United States can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of the said Territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a secretary of said Territory, who shall reside therein and shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States; he shall record and preserve all laws and proceedings of the legislative assembly hereinafter constituted, and all the acts and proceedings of the governor in his executive department; he shall transmit one copy of the laws and journals of the legislative assembly within thirty days after the end of each session, and one copy of the executive proceedings and official correspondence semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, to the President of the United States, and two copies of the laws to the President of the Senate and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives for the use of Congress; and in case of the death, removal, resignation, or absence of the governor from the Territory, the secretary shall be, and he is hereby authorized and required to execute and perform all the powers and duties of the governor during such vacancy or absence, or until another governor shall be duly appointed and qualified to fill such vacancy.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power and authority of said Territory shall be vested in the governor and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly shall consist of a council and house of representatives. The council shall consist of seven members having the qualifications of voters as hereinafter prescribed, whose term of service shall continue two years. The house of representatives shall, at its first session, consist of thirteen members, possessing the same qualifications as prescribed for the members of the council, and whose term of service shall continue one year. The number of representatives may be increased by the legislative assembly, from time to time, to twenty-six, in proportion to the increase of qualified voters, and the council, in like manner to thirteen. An apportionment shall be made as nearly equal as practicable among the several counties or districts for the election of the council and representatives, giving to each section of the Territory representation in the ratio of its qualified voters as nearly as may be. And the members of the council, and of the house of representatives shall reside in and be inhabitants of the district or county, or counties, for which they may be elected respectively. Previous to the first election the governor shall cause a census or enumeration of the inhabitants and qualified voters of the several counties and districts of the Territory to be taken by such persons and in such mode as the governor shall designate and appoint, and the persons so appointed shall receive a reasonable compensation therefor. And the first election shall be held at such time and places, and be conducted in such manner both as to the persons who shall superintend such election and the returns thereof, as the governor shall appoint and direct, and he shall, at the same time, declare the number of members of the council and house of representatives to which each of the counties or districts shall be entitled under this act. The persons having the highest number of legal votes in each of said council districts for members of the council shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected to the council, and the persons having the highest number of legal votes for the house of representatives shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected members of said house; Provided, That in case two or more persons voted for shall have an equal number of votes, and in case a vacancy shall otherwise occur in either branch of the legislative assembly, the governor shall order a new election; and the persons thus elected to the legislative assembly shall meet at such place and on such day as the governor shall appoint, but thereafter the time, place, and manner of holding and conducting all elections by the people, and the apportioning the representation in the several counties or districts to the council and house of representatives, according to the number of qualified voters, shall be prescribed by law, as well as the day of the commencement of the regular sessions of the legislative assembly; Provided, That no session in any one year shall exceed the term of forty days, except the first session which may continue sixty days.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That every free white male inhabitant above the age of twenty-one years who shall have been an actual resident of said Territory at the time of the passage of this act, shall be entitled to vote at the first election, and shall be eligible to any office within the said Territory; but the qualifications of voters, and of holding office, at all subsequent elections shall be such as shall be prescribed by the legislative assembly.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the Territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act; but no law shall be passed interfering with the primary disposal of the soil; no tax shall be imposed upon the property of the United States, nor shall the lands or other property of non-residents be taxed higher than the lands or other property of residents. Every bill which shall have passed the council and house of representatives of the said Territory shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the Territory; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated, who shall enter the objections at large upon their journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, to be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the assembly, by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law; Provided, That whereas slavery is prohibited in said Territory by act of Congress of June 19th, 1862, nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or permit its existence therein.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That all township, district, and county officers not herein otherwise provided for shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of Idaho. The governor shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council, appoint all officers not herein otherwise provided for, and in the first instance the governor alone may appoint all said officers, who shall hold their offices until the end of the first session of the legislative assembly, and shall lay off the necessary districts for members of the council and house of representatives and all other officers.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold or be appointed to any office which shall have been created, or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased, while he was a member, during the term for which he was elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; but this restriction shall not be applicable to members of the first legislative assembly; and no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, except postmasters, shall be a member of the legislative assembly, or shall hold any office under the government of said Territory.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That the judicial power of said Territory shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall hold a term at the seat of government of said Territory annually, and they shall hold their offices during the period of four years, and until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. The said Territory shall be divided into three judicial districts, and a district court shall be held in each of said districts by one of the justices of the supreme court at such times and places as may be prescribed by law, and the said judges shall, after their appointment, respectively, reside in the districts which shall be assigned them. The jurisdiction of the several courts herein provided for, both appellate and original, and that of the probate courts and of justices of the peace, shall be limited by law: Provided, That justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any matter in controversy when the title or boundaries of land may be in dispute, or where the debt or sum claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars; and the said supreme and district courts, respectively, shall possess chancery as well as common law jurisdiction. Each district court, or the judge thereof, shall appoint its clerk, who shall also be the register in chancery, and shall keep his office at the place where the court may be held. Writs of error, bills of exceptions, and appeals shall be allowed in all cases from the final decisions of said district courts to the supreme court under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The supreme court, or the justices thereof, shall appoint its own clerk, and every clerk shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court for which he shall have been appointed. Writs of error and appeals from the final decisions of said supreme court shall be allowed, and may be taken to the supreme Court of the United States, in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit courts of the United States, where the value of the property or the amount in controversy, to be ascertained by the oath or affirmation of either party or other competent witnesses, shall exceed $1000; except that a writ of error or appeal shall be allowed to the supreme Court of the United States from the decision of the said supreme court created by this act, or of any judge thereof, upon any writs of habeas corpus involving the question of personal freedom. And each of the said district courts shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction in all cases arising under the Constitution and laws of the United States as is vested in the circuit and district courts of the United States. The first six days of every term of said courts or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be appropriated to the trial of causes arising under the said Constitution and laws; and writs of error and appeal in all such cases shall be made to the supreme court of said Territory the same as in other cases. The said clerks shall receive in all such cases the same fees which the clerks of the district courts of Washington Territory now receive for similar services.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed an attorney for said Territory, who shall continue in office four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States, and who shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the present Territory of Washington. There shall also be a marshal for the Territory appointed, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States; he shall perform the duties, be subject to the same regulations and penalties, and be entitled to the same fees as the marshal of the district court of the United States for the present Territory of Washington, and shall, in addition, be paid $200 annually as a compensation for extra services.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, chief justice and associate justices, attorney and marshal, shall be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The governor and secretary to be appointed as aforesaid shall, before they act as such, respectively take an oath or affirmation before the district judge, or some justice of the peace in the limits of said Territory duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations by the laws now in force therein, or before the chief justice or some associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to support the Constitution of the United States, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices, which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person by whom the same shall have been taken; and such certificates shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings; and the chief justice and associate justices, and all other civil officers in said Territory, before they act as such, shall take a like oath or affirmation before the said governor or secretary, or some judge or justice of the peace of the Territory, who may be duly commissioned and qualified, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted by the person taking the same to the secretary, to be by him recorded as aforesaid; and afterwards the like oath or affirmation shall be taken, certified and recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law. The governor shall receive an annual salary of $2,500; the chief justice and associate justices shall each receive an annual salary of $2,500; the secretary shall receive an annual salary of $2,000; the said salaries shall be paid quarterly from the dates of the respective appointments, at the Treasury of the United States; but no payment shall be made until said officers shall have entered upon the duties of their respective appointments. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive four dollars each per day during their attendance at the sessions thereof, and four dollars each for every twenty miles travel in going to and returning from said sessions, estimated according to the nearest usually traveled route; and an additional allowance of four dollars per day shall be paid to the presiding officer of each house for each day he shall so preside. And a chief clerk, one assistant clerk, one engrossing and one enrolling clerk, a sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper may be chosen for each house; and the chief clerk shall receive four dollars per day, and the said other officers three dollars per day, during the session of the legislative assembly; but no other officers shall be paid by the United States: Provided, That there shall be but one session of the legislative assembly annually, unless on an extraordinary occasion the governor shall think proper to call the legislative assembly together. There shall be appropriated annually the usual sum to be expended by the governor to defray the contingent expenses of the Territory, including the salary of the clerk of the executive department, and there shall also be appropriated annually a sufficient sum, to be expended by the secretary of the Territory, and upon an estimate to be made by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, to defray the expenses of the legislative assembly, the printing of the laws, and other incidental expenses; and the governor and secretary of the Territory shall, in the disbursement of all moneys intrusted to them, be governed solely by the instructions of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and shall semi-annually account to the said Secretary for the manner in which the aforesaid moneys shall have been expended; and no expenditure shall be made by said legislative assembly for objects not specially authorized by the acts of Congress making the appropriations, nor beyond the sums thus appropriated for such objects.

SEC. 12. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly of the Territory of Idaho shall hold its first session at such time and place in said Territory as the governor thereof shall appoint and direct; and at said first session, or as soon thereafter as they shall deem expedient, the governor and legislative assembly shall proceed to locate and establish a seat of government for said Territory at such place as they may deem eligible: Provided, That the seat of government fixed by the governor and legislative assembly shall not be at any time changed, except by an act of the said assembly duly passed, and which shall be approved, after due notice, at the first general election thereafter, by a majority of the legal votes cast on that question.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That a delegate to the House of Representatives of the United States, to serve for the term of two years, who shall be a citizen of the United States, may be elected by the voters qualified to elect members of the legislative assembly, who shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are exercised and enjoyed by the delegates of the several other Territories of the United States to the said House of Representatives, but the delegate first elected shall hold his seat only during the term of the Congress to which he shall be elected. The first election shall be held at such time and places, and be conducted in such manner as the governor shall appoint and direct, and at all subsequent elections the time, places and manner of holding the elections shall be prescribed by law. The person having the greatest number of legal votes shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected, and a certificate thereof to be given accordingly. That the Constitution and all laws of the United States which are not locally inapplicable shall have the same force and effect within the said Territory of Idaho as elsewhere within the United States.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That when the lands in the said Territory shall be surveyed under the direction of the Government of the United States, preparatory to bringing the same into market, sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in each township in said Territory shall be and the same are hereby reserved for the purpose of being applied to schools in said Territory, and in the States and Territories hereafter to be erected out of the same.

SEC. 15. And be it further enacted, That until otherwise provided by law, the governor of said Territory may define the judicial districts of said Territory, and assign the judges who may be appointed for said Territory to the several districts, and also appoint the times and places for holding courts in the several counties or subdivisions in each of said judicial districts, by proclamation to be issued by him; but the legislative assembly, at their first or any subsequent session, may organize, alter or modify such judicial districts, and assign the judges, and alter the times and places of holding the courts as to them shall seem proper and convenient.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That all officers to be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for the Territory of Idaho, who by virtue of any of the provisions of any law now existing, or which may be enacted by Congress, are required to give security for moneys that may be entrusted with them for disbursement, shall give such security at such time and in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That all treaties, laws, and other engagements made by the Government of the United States with the Indian tribes inhabiting the Territory embraced within the provisions of this act, shall be faithfully and rigidly observed, anything contained in this act to the contrary notwithstanding; and that the existing agencies and superintendencies of said Indians be continued with the same powers and duties which are now prescribed by law, except that the President of the United States may, at his discretion, change the location of the office of said agencies or superintendents.

Approved March 3, 1863.

HUMAN STRENGTH.—A New York paper gives currency to the report that Dr. Winship, our modern Milo, has met with serious physical injury through his lifting experiments. Such is not the fact. He has now reached a lifting power of over twenty-five hundred pounds. His remarkable lifting apparatus is in his office, Park street, where it may be seen by the curious. It is on record that one Richard Joy, of Kent, England, in the year 1701 succeeded in lifting twenty-two hundred pounds. Dr. W. has surpassed this by three hundred, and finding his strength increasing in an undiminished ratio, is still confident of reaching, within a reasonable time, his ultimatum of three thousand pounds. His motive in carrying physical development to this extreme is purely scientific, and he has not yet, we believe, recommended any one to be in this respect his imitator.—Cincinnati Gazette.

"Greenbacks will go down when you go down," said a gallant Indiana Colonel to one of his men whose mind had been somewhat poisoned by the treasonable teachings of Copperheadism. "The bluecoats and greenbacks are in the same boat, and must sink or swim together."

"Then," said the soldier, "a discount on greenbacks is a discount on us."

"That's it, exactly," said the Colonel; "and as long as we win victories in the field, greenbacks will be worth a premium."

"AYE, THERE'S THE RUB."—An old maid who has her eye a little sideways on matrimony, says, "the curse of this war is that it will make so many widows who will be so fierce to get married, and who know how to do it, the modest girls will have no chance at all."

AIR AT WORK.—The London "Pneumatic Dispatch Company" has commenced forwarding mail bags through its underground tubes. This enterprise is novel. The pneumatic tubes which have been laid by the company extend from the Euston railway station to the North-western District postoffice, in Eversholt street, London, a distance of only about one third of a mile, but sufficient for experimental purposes. The tube resembles an elliptical gas main thirty-three inches high by thirty inches wide, and is laid in nine feet lengths at an average depth of nine feet below the street level. The joints are filled in with lead so as to be perfectly air-tight. Within this tube runs a wrought iron car weighing eight hundred pounds, and fitted with four wheels each twenty inches in diameter. At each end of the tube is a hollow iron wheel working in an air-tight box of twenty-one feet in diameter, which is connected with a steam engine of seventeen horse power. The wheel turns at a velocity of seventy to ninety miles an hour, when the air which is drawn in through its hollow centre is thrown off from its periphery with a force that gives a pressure of from five to seven ounces on the square inch. The iron cars in the tube present a surface of nearly five square feet to the blast, and are propelled at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

The entire cost of a line of five miles is estimated at £131,000, and it is proposed to carry freight as well as mails through London at the cheap rate of a penny, two cents a ton per mile. So far the experiment is successful, and the results are very interesting and curious.

AFTER MARRIAGE TROUBLES.—They said marrying was fun—pretty fun to be sure.—When I was a single man the world wagged about well enough. It was just like an omnibus. I was a passenger, paid my levy, and had no more to do with it than to sit down and care not a button for anything. Supposing the omnibus got upset, well I walks off and leaves the man to pick up the pieces. But then I takes a wife and I changed from—it's all very well for a while, but plaguy like owning an omnibus. What did I get by it? how much fun? Why a jawing old woman and three squallers. Mighty different from courting. Instead of "yes, my duck," or "as my dear," "as you please, honey," and "when you like, lovely," like what it was in courting time, it's a regular row. Sour looks and cold potatoes—children and table cloths badly off for soap, always darning and mending and nothing ever darned or mended. If it wasn't that I am particularly sober, I'd be inclined to drink. My house ain't my own. I belong to four people besides myself, the old woman and three children. I'm a partnership concern, and as many have got their fingers in, I must burn up. I'll break and sign over to you.—Sam Patch.

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay on all nett profits over $600 derived from any source whatever. A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help, Rents, Drayage, &c., necessary to carry on his business; but no farmer, merchant, mechanic or any person, has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income.

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1st, 1862, so that on the evening of December 31st, 1862, everybody should make up a record of their income gains or profits for that year. And as many sources of income, such as Dividends and Railroad Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stock, Savings Banks interest, &c., (they having already paid the income tax,) are not again taxed. It therefore becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the Assessor.

All corporations must deduct the three per centum before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount less $600.

A man may outside of his business spend all and even more than his profits in the business, nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $600. And so with a salary, all over $600 must be taxed, though personal or family expenses consume it all.

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is assessable on the first day of May, 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June, 1863. And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June, as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per cent. will be added to the amount unpaid.

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of Ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.
PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF ARMY MEN.

We call the attention of all having relatives or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.
